

EXPLANATION OF THE COMPARISON OF THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSISSIPPI 2003-04
AVERAGE FACULTY SALARIES BY RANK AND COLLEGE OR SCHOOL WITH SIMILAR ACADEMIC UNITS IN THE SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY GROUP

In March 2004, Institutional Research and Assessment distributed the data shown on the next two pages (along with more detailed departmental reports) to academic deans and department chairs. These data were taken from the 2003-04 Southern University Group Salary Survey Report. All institutions report average faculty salary data by rank and CIP code group. After the data are compiled, summaries are distributed to each participant. The comparison of The University of Mississippi college/schools with “similar” academic units was accomplished through (a) selection of average salaries by rank in those CIP disciplines represented in each Ole Miss college/school and (b) the calculation of weighted means for each rank in each discipline. While this technique for equating faculty salaries is not without flaws (such as the absence of control for years of teaching experience and highest academic degree held), it provides the best comparison available at the departmental, college/school, and institutional level.
